A backup is a second copy of all your important files for example, your family photos, home videos, documents and emails

Why should I backup?